

2019

Novara, Italy

Chemistry and Petrochemistry

A company operating in the sulphur chemistry sector.

We have made several deliveries of plate heat exchangers for cooling/heating various production processes, ranging from utilities to the actual process.

Some applications require the use of plate heat exchangers with large free-flow passages, due to particularly dirty fluids.

In specific cases, aggressive fluids require special alloys for the plate construction, combined with FKM seals.