

2019

Savona, Italy

Rubber and Plastics

The company designs, manufactures and markets measuring transformers and high voltage capacitors.

In production processes, vacuum pumps need proven and consistent cooling efficiency throughout the year.

We intervened with the supply of a redundant refrigeration system, so as to ensure the cooling of production at all times, interfaced with a pumping and heat exchange system to ensure the correct thermal level and flow rate to the various vacuum pumps served by a chilled water distribution loop.